

News from Justine

Autumn 2016

Hidden In The Hills

• Friday • Saturday • Sunday — 10 am to 5 pm
 • November 18, 19, 20 & 25, 26, 27

See Justine at Coyote Crossing Studio 43

38611 North Grapevine Road
 480.595.1106 — free admission

Visit 188 artists at 47 studios in the Valley's largest six-day studio tour and sale for art enthusiasts, patrons and serious collectors. Click this link to the Sonoran Arts League to

- Make your own custom Tour Map
- Purchase the beautiful Artist Directory

This is a wonderful event to share with friends & family. See you there!

Justine and Bill are gearing up for the annual "Hidden in the Hills Studio Tour and Sale". This is the 20th Anniversary of HITH and Justine has been participating in this outstanding art event for 12 years.

She will be exhibiting her art for the 5th year at Dick Mueller's "Coyote Crossing" Studio 43, along with Dick's colored pencil drawings, Karen Friend's art gourds, and new artist, sculptor and painter Misty Soderberg. Justine will be demonstrating her cactus painting which she started in Michigan. When visiting the studios look for the 20th Anniversary "Hidden in the Hills" book; it's beautiful. See you at "Hidden in the Hills"!

Labor Day back at Crooked Lake brought thoughts of fall with leaves starting to turn and farmers bringing in their crops. Bill and Justine started the packing up of the Michigan cabin, bringing in the dock and pontoon boat as the cold weather started to set in.

Bear started to appear like he wanted to go back to Arizona. Justine, Bill and Bear flew back to AZ but Squirtle the turtle had to be shipped back with the "Ship My Reptile" company as he was boxed and shipped overnight express via Fed-X to my dear friend, Cindy Shievitz's home who kept him until the family could be reunited in AZ.

After an extensive "settling in" period back in Fountain Hills, Justine finished a small painting, "Saguaro Sunset" which she entered in the Sonoran Arts League's "Small Works" exhibit.

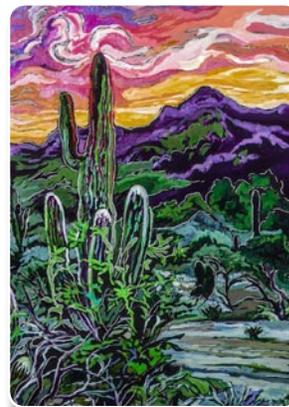

Squirtle & Bear

Changing Leaves

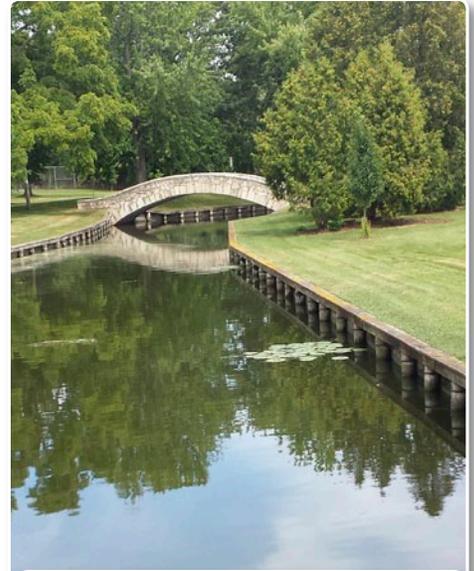

Saguaro Sunset

Celebration in Wisconsin

During August Justine made an unusual trek from her summer home in Michigan to attend her 55th “Neenah High School Class reunion” in Wisconsin. First, she drove the family SUV to Ludington, Michigan to board the “SS Badger” the oldest and only remaining coal burning ferry in the US. The ship was huge, capable of holding over a hundred cars and trucks, even semis. Additionally, the ship had on board a museum, restaurant, game room, easy chair TV viewing area along with sleeping cabins as hundreds of people made the four hour crossing of Lake Michigan landing at Manitowoc, Wisconsin.

Justine then drove the 70 miles down to Neenah where she met her childhood friend, Patty Kunz who flew in from Fairbanks, Alaska. Patty and Justine visited sentimental places in their home town; along with places they painted watercolors during their childhood, such as the Japanese bridges at Doty Park. Patty and Justine would load up their bikes with boards taped with watercolor paper and spend the day at Doty Park. The two buddies had a wonderful reunion with old friends as 150 students made it to the gathering. What a great time with everyone looking a young 73 and still very active for their age.

Justine Mantor~Waldie
12419 North Fountain Hills Boulevard
Fountain Hills, Arizona 85268

Justine
©

Looking forward to seeing our friends and making new friends at Hidden in the Hills 20th Annual Studio Tour & Sale. See you there!

Go to: Sonoran Arts League for more info justjustine.com to see Justine's art