AUTUMN ART IN OUR DESERT ... HIDDEN IN THE HILLS ARTIST STUDIO TOUR

Justine and Bill are preparing for "Hidden in the Hills" which takes place from 10 am to 5 pm the weekend before and the weekend of Thanksgiving:

Friday, Saturday, Sunday ► November 18, 19, 20 and 25, 26, 27

Hopefully Bill will be able to help set up for the show. During the summer he had health challenges but he seems to be on a better path to wellness. Bill does all the matting and framing of Justine's small paintings.

This year marks sixteen years of Justine's participation in Hidden in the Hills. Mark your calendar for this wonderful event. She will again be located at:

► Dick Mueller's
"Coyote Crossing Studio"

Studio guests include:

- Dick Mueller, colored pencil drawings
- Justine, inks & etching paintings
- Karen Friend, gourd art sculptures
- Bob Elenbaas, photography

Many visitors come during the 6-day marathon which is the show. Last year "Coyote Crossing Studio" had 200 visitors in one day! Look for new experimental paintings from Justine along with reworked additional paintings.

Justine kept busy during the summer completing a painting for a couple from Michigan. They were visiting Sedona at Springtime and saw Justine's art at the Sedona Arts Center. They visited Justine at her home studio and picked out a recently etched landscape to be completed with Justine's ink and etching technique. It was a birthday gift for Amanda Barone Pritchard. The painting was especially complex and it took Justine three months to complete the 24 x 18" painting. The painting is named "Sunset of the Rocks." Finally in July, the finished painting was shipped to Amanda and her family. Here is a picture of Amanda and her family with her painting.

Bear & Squirtle

Our beloved dog Bear is 14 years old but still hanging in there and going on his regular walks with his human friend, Justine.

Additionally our small family includes our pet Squirtle the turtle who is 22 years old, but who's counting?

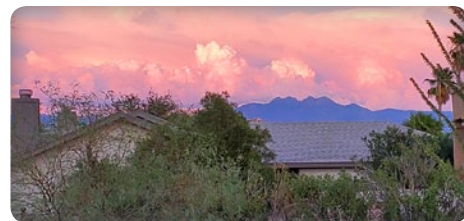

May you and your loved ones have a spectacular fall!

Changing of the Season

Yay Fall! We are finally through the searing hot days of summer and we have survived!

The Monsoon season seems to be lingering into October with additional rain and spectacular sunrises and sunsets to delight all the senses.
